Student Research

A research opportunity open to all residential, undergraduate UF students

The Civic Scholars program of the Bob Graham Center for Public Service offers UF undergraduates an opportunity to engage in a semester of entry-level research. Participants will gain a better understanding of critical issues impacting the state of Florida.

The Spring 2021 Scholars will research important public health issues and collect data on health indicators in the state's 67 counties. Your work will support the continued development of the Barometer Florida portal and help the public track progress on this and other challenges facing our state.

Upon completion of all program requirements, each student will receive a $500 stipend—along with an important undergraduate research experience.

Learn More

bobgrahamcenter.ufl.edu

or email Mike Waylen:

kilgorettrout89@ufl.edu

Please apply only if you can fulfill the program's obligations, including the interviews in your assigned county.

If you receive need-based financial aid or student loans, check with the UF Office of Student Financial Affairs to determine the stipend's impact on your aid package. You will not receive a check; the stipend will be distributed directly through the financial affairs office.

Info Session

Want to learn about what's involved in undergraduate research, and if the Civic Scholars program is a good fit for you? Join Mike Waylen and previous Civic Scholar at an online information session on Nov. 19 at 12:30 pm.
